

MUTTI, 1200 NEW HIRES FOR THE 2023 TOMATO PROCESSING CAMPAIGN

- The company is to hire 450 workers in Montechiarugolo (PR), 400 in Collecchio (PR) and 350 in Oliveto Citra (SA). They will be employed from July to September, the most important period of the year for the company.
- As well as seasonal workers, Mutti is also looking for students, such as graduates of industrial and professional technical schools in the areas of mechanics, electrical engineering and electronics. These are joined by specialist technical profiles such as quality control analysts and samplers.
- The company is offering seasonal contracts.

4 May 2023, Montechiarugolo (PR) – Mutti, European leader in the tomato product market, has announced that it is recruiting 1200 new hires from July to September to work on the Group's production and administrative activities at its three plants. More specifically, 450 workers are being hired at Montechiarugolo (PR), 400 at Collecchio (PR) and 350 at Oliveto Citra (SA).

The recruitment drive coincides with the tomato processing campaign, a key period for the company in which, over the space of about 75 summer days from mid-July to the end of September, it processes the raw materials produced by over 800 families of Italian farmers, using only tomatoes picked during their natural growth cycle.

As well as traditional seasonal workers, Mutti is also looking for profiles to cover specialist roles such as quality control analyst and tomato field sampler. The other profiles sought this year also include graduates of industrial and professional technical schools in the fields of mechanics, electrical engineering and electronics, who will be tasked with monitoring machinery and managing complex systems in the areas of industrial automation and robotics.

Applications are already open and the company is offering seasonal contracts.

Applicants must meet the following criteria:

- They must be of legal working age
- Available from 1 July to 30 September
- Own their own car
- Be willing to work in shifts (including Sundays, bank holidays and nights).

Those who have already worked with Mutti in previous campaigns will be given priority.
To apply: <https://mutti-parma.com/it/lavora-con-noi/lavoro-stagionale-trasformazione-del-pomodoro/>

MUTTI SPA - The historic Parma-based company is the European leader in the tomato product market. Marcellino and Callisto Mutti launched the first tomato processing campaign in 1899. Since then, focusing on the core values of quality and Italian tradition, along with respect for the supply chain and the local area, the Mutti family has been exclusively dedicated to 100% Italian tomatoes, producing tomato paste, puree and pulp, products that are now enjoyed all over the world. The desire to innovate, part of the company's DNA since it was founded, has led to the gradual expansion of Mutti's range to include a wide selection of ready-made sauces and soups. With 120 years of experience in the business, today the Mutti Group is present in 100 countries worldwide and in 2022 recorded a net turnover of €563 million, processing 603,000 tonnes of tomatoes. As for sales, in 2022 sales volumes in Italy were exceeded by export volumes thanks to years of double-digit growth in the international market. Montechiarugolo (PR) is the historic business headquarters of the Group which has gradually expanded to meet all the needs of its consumers. The Oliveto Citra plant (SA) processes typical southern Italian specialities, such as the plum tomato and the cherry tomato. Finally, in November 2017 Mutti acquired the CO.PAD.OR plant in Collecchio, setting up the new company Pomodoro 43044 Srl which was subsequently merged with Mutti SpA as of 1 January 2021.

Mutti Press Office - Contacts

Corporate Communication and PR Specialist

Simone Berruto – m. +39 345 6195979 –simone.berruto@muttisp.a.it